

AAC Publications

Fall on Rock, Free Solo Climbing

North Carolina, Pisgah National Forest, Black Fork

A male climber (18) was seriously injured in a fall on August 3 at the Black Rock climbing area, located in the Grandfather Ranger District of Pisgah National Forest, near the Linville Gorge Wilderness Area. He was free soloing Crazy River (5.9) when he fell approximately 60 feet to the ground, fracturing his face and sustaining other injuries.

Images

Article Details

Author
Publication	ANAM
Volume	10
Issue	67
Page	86
Copyright Date	2014
Article Type	Accident reports